SHOW RAISES FUNDS FOR EQUINE GUELPH

Lichman Keeps the Beat and Delivers a Treat!

Five star Master Parelli Professional, David Lichman wowed the audience of over 250 in the audience!

For many of us, the issue of global equine welfare can stir conflicting emotions. What may seem like an easy solution to one, may not be so easy for another. What better way to learn about the issue of the welfare of horses than by travelling the globe with 1000+ riders?

Director of Equine Guelph, Gayle Ecker, thanks Ross Miller and all those who donated items for the auction last March, “We are very excited to see the audience grow from the 60 people who attended the first auction to over 250 in the audience. The performance was a huge success – the show was completely sold out and we hope to increase the size of the audience for the next show.”

Pfaff and Mclaren generously supported the auction, donating $12,000 in cash and over $5,000 worth of merchandise and services. In addition, they were joined by nine other major sponsors, who donated items for the auction.
